

Tony Bowen is Chief Financial Officer for H&R Block. In this role, Bowen is responsible for leading all financial functions and setting overall financial strategy for the company.

Since joining the company in 2004, Bowen has held many senior leadership roles including vice president of finance for the U.S. Tax Services division and vice president and general manager of the DIY Tax business where he managed the online, mobile and desktop software products. Previously, Bowen served in a variety of roles for the company and its subsidiaries, including assistant vice president of corporate development, program director of finance, director of hedging, and senior treasury analyst.

Prior to joining H&R Block, Bowen held positions with American Century Investments and George K. Baum and Company.

Bowen has served on the Board of Directors for the Greater Kansas City Chamber of Commerce since 2016.

Bowen holds a bachelor's degree in finance from the University of Missouri and is also a CFA Charterholder and member of the CFA Institute.