Dear Taxpayer:

We received your Form 8857, Request for Innocent Spouse Relief, requesting relief under IRC Section 66(c) from a tax debt resulting from state community property laws.

A detailed statement from you and documentation to support your claim of spousal abuse and/or domestic violence. Examples include police reports, restraining order, doctor's report or letter or notarized statement from someone who was aware of the situation.

The IRS understands and is sensitive to the effects of domestic violence/spousal abuse, and encourages victims of domestic violence to contact 911 if they are in immediate danger. Also, you can contact the National Domestic Violence Hotline at 1-800-799-SAFE (7233), 1-800-787-3224 (TTY) or (206)787-3224 (Video Phone Only for Deaf Callers) for confidential safety planning assistance and/or referrals to local resources in your community.

A financial statement that includes all the household monthly income and expenses. If family and friends are helping to support you, include the amount of support as gifts.

You may fax the requested information to us at the fax number shown on the first page of this letter or mail it to us in the enclosed envelope.

If you filed a Form 8857, Request for Innocent Spouse Relief, for any other tax years, it will be addressed in a separate letter.

Generally it takes about three to six months for a determination to be made. We may need to reach you while we process your request. If your address or phone number changes, call the contact person shown on the
