Dear Taxpayer:

Thank you for your inquiry dated Mar. 30, 2016.

We are returning your Form 8862, Information To Claim Earned Income Credit After Disallowance. Form 8862 is required on the next return (not this return) you file after a previous audit, claiming the Earned Income Credit (EIC) with a qualifying child. This applies when the only reason the EIC was changed in the audit (in the earlier year) was because a child listed on Schedule EIC was not your qualifying child.

If you do not agree with our earlier audit results that took away the Earned Income Credit, you may request an Audit Reconsideration. Enclosed is Publication 3598, What You Should Know About the Audit Reconsideration Process, for your review. Please address your reply to the site where your audit was conducted. You can find the address in Publication 3598.

Our records also show that the Additional Child Tax Credit was not allowed and that we previously changed your filing status to Single
